Early Showing of Fall Garments

Although the garment situation is unchanged, our early purchases have put us in a position to take care of our trade until the middle of the season. Thus you will find this early in the season one of the largest displays of Ladies' Suits and Coats we have ever shown. We bought these garments early and had them shipped as soon as ready in order to have the stock before the strike came on and today the garment strike is in no better shape than five weeks ago.

Ladies' Tailored Suits

We have just received a large shipment of those medium-priced Suits in all colors and black.

At $15.00 we now have some extra values in blacks and colors. These are Suits that are made of a fine all-wool worsted. Coats are back-stayed and lined with a guaranteed satin. These are Suits it will be hard to duplicate.

At $18.00 are a few sample Suits that are exceptional values; are mostly in mixed materials.

At $20.00 are a number of styles in the popular fall Suits. Suits that have all the style of the more expensive ones, and the material is first class.

At $25.00 you will find one of the best displays of Suits, both in the fine worsteds and fine and wide wale serges, that we have ever shown. These are Suits that are as good value as we ever put out.

At $30.00 we have got some extra values in odd Suits, Suits that we can guarantee as the best style and quality of the season.

Misses' and Ladies' Coats

We have just received one of the largest invoices of Ladies' and Misses' Coats that ever came into our store. These are the season's best values, and the reason we have got so many is that we bought heavy early in the season, to protect us in case the strike was not settled.

Here is where we made a great hit, as this is the seventh week of the great strike and no prospect of an immediate settlement.

We will be in position to take care of our early trade without any trouble and will give you Suits and Coats at the old prices. Later we will have to pay the advance, which is from one to three dollars on a garment.

In Ladies' Coats we have some of the best values in both colors and blacks we have ever put out. We are sure when you look over the line you will agree with us and be pleased with the values.

Children's Coats

Last season our early shipment of small Coats was closed out in a few days after we got them in, so we had to keep the trade waiting some weeks for the Silk Bear and other Children's Coats.

This season we have our full line of these small Coats now in stock or on the way, so we will not have to keep the trade waiting for same.

At $2.95 we have got one of the best values in a Silk Bear Coat in white and colors we will be able to give you. They are made of a double texture silk bear and have a good heavy lining.

At $3.95 is a little better quality Coat in the heavy curly silk bear cloth that is a good value.

We also have got a good display of cloth Coats in the small sizes, Coats that are lined and interlined, in a number of different qualities.

At $5.00 is one of the best values in a Child's Little Coat, in sizes from 2 to 6 years.

We also have a good line of Misses' Coats in sizes from 6 to 14 years, in all the popular cloths.

We still have a few Odd Suits and Coats we are closing out at one-half price. All are Ladies' Linen and Rep Suits.

RIGHT HAND RULE.

The Way it is Applied in Driving and in Navigation.

London's drivers, sitting on the right side of the driver's seat, turn to the left. Why? In order that looking down at the right side of the vehicle they may gauge to a fraction of an inch the hubs of a vehicle meeting them. In the United States the driver still preserves the right side of the seat and in turning to the right of the roadway has the least knowledge of where his hubs may be in passing.

But in international navigation the right hand rule always obtain. It is the narrow channel winding into a port where the extremest of emphasis is laid upon the vessel keeping to starboard, no matter how many crooks and turns and loops the channel may make.

This was illustrated in a collision on the Whangpoo river, in China, when the Pekin and the Normandie collided. The Normandie was descending the stream, keeping to starboard. The Pekin was ascending the channel, keeping to its starboard. At a sharp turn in the channel the two boats collided. The Pekin's master declared that owing to the sharp bend in the river it was a "crossing" case, in which the Normandie was to blame.

In the house of lords, however, it was held that the right of any channel of any degree of sinuosity lay at the right of the channel's center; that, therefore, when the Pekin failed to observe the rule in the sharp bend and "cut across" it became an offender against the law and must pay damages.—Chicago Tribune.

The Picture It Brought From Out a Dark Cavern.

Dr. Francis Clark told an interesting story of a youth living in Maine who was out in the woods one day taking photographs of attractive bits of scenery. He came upon the mouth of a little cavern between the rocks, and he said to himself, "I will see what sort of picture I can get out of that cave," and as it was a dark day he decided to take a "time exposure" instead of a "snapshot." Steadying the camera upon his knee as well as he could at the edge of the cave, he gave the sensitive plate a long, deliberate look at the semidarkness within. Then he continued his tramp through the woods and after a few hours returned to his camp.

Several weeks afterward, when developing his plates, you can imagine his astonishment to see in the picture, in the very center of the cavern, with arched back and bristling fur and within springing distance of the spot where he had balanced his camera, a huge Canada lynx that might easily have destroyed his life. And yet he came and went and saw no signs of danger.—Christian Herald.

First Potatoes in Scotland.

It is claimed by a correspondent that the first person to grow potatoes in the open field in Scotland was Thomas Prentice, a day laborer in the West Barony of the parish in Glasgow, near Chapel Green. That was in the year 1728. It was about four years after that date that he (Prentice) entered the market with them and was very successful with his experiment, as he made £300 of it, which he sank in double interest and died at Edinburgh in 1762.—Glasgow Herald.

SOFT HATS

We think that "Nifty" is about the word to describe our New Fall Soft Hats. Soft Hats are very popular these days and we show the best shapes made. Several blocks for the conservative man and some very "smart" and "snappy" shapes for the swell young fellow who is always after the "thing." There is quite a variety of shades and trimmings at $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 to $4.00. If we have not been dressing your head, Sir, we are quite sure that you have been missing the best Hats in town.
